

CIHR CAFÉ SCIENTIFIQUE
PRESENTS

To Your Health! Personalized Medicine in the Genomics Era

Wednesday, May 24, 2017, 8:00 p.m.

Café du Monument-National

1182 St-Laurent Boul., Montreal

Registration RSVP: cihr-ig@mcgill.ca

Presentations will be in French and English. Questions are welcome in both languages.

Come discuss with experts from various fields what is 'personalized medicine' and how it can impact your life, your family and your community. Experts will cover prenatal testing, epigenetics, public health and patients perspectives, sharing their past experience and predictions for the exciting – yet complex - future ahead!

Experts

Rosemary Tiklé

B.Sc.

Biochemist, Speaker,
Patient

Charles Dupras

PhD(c) Bioethics

Centre for Research on Ethics (CRE)
Centre of Genomics and Policy (CGP)
McGill University

Vardit Ravitsky

Ph.D.

Associate Professor
Bioethics Programs,
School of Public Health
Université de Montreal

Moderator

Michel Rochon

Health and Science Journalist